

An aerial photograph showing a rural landscape. In the upper right, there is a cluster of houses with red-tiled roofs. Below them is a large, rectangular field with distinct rows of trees, likely a plantation. To the right of this field is a large, light-brown field, possibly a harvested crop field. A yellow line starts from a text box on the left and points to a road intersection in the center of the image. The road runs from the bottom left towards the top right. The bottom right of the image is dominated by a dense forest.

Orientamento del viale con filare di lecci sul margine sud-orientale

Scala 1:2.000